

DFW this

There are several things to remember to do before the summer heat really starts cooking around DFW!

Remember your fun trips to Glen Rose, TX? Or maybe you've never been? If you like to get the family out for a weekend day trip, how about Fossil Rim Wildlife Park or Dinosaur Valley State Park, both located in Glen Rose. These spots are definitely more enjoyable in the milder days of spring. So make your plans now.

Sometimes we forget the things we did for family fun years ago.

Remember Medieval Times in Dallas? If your kids haven't experienced that, it might be a fun option-before the summer crowds get to DFW!

These are pics of our grandson, Holden. Brendon had to share one of his favorite childhood memories!
